

MURDERS
SPUR WHOLE
POLICE FORCE
TO CLEAN-UP

Men at Station Decks for Years, Chauffeurs, Mechanics and Policemen Join in Raids on Underworld Resorts—321 Prisons Held in Cells.

SEVERAL CRONIES
OF MILES TAKEN

Killing of Patrolman Anderson a Challenge to the Entire Department, President Brockman Tells Subordinates.

Activity in the Police Department, forced by the ruthless murder of Patrolman William H. Anderson, and an order from President Brockman of the Police Board to "make it red hot for the 'red bait'" brought into the streets last night the strangest collection of policemen this city has ever known.

Men who had spent years at station decks patrolled beats and police chauffeurs and mechanics were assigned to detect work.
Policemen volunteered to work evening in plain clothes and even policemen took a hand.

President Brockman led several miling parties and when the prisons were counted at the end of the night's "clean-up" on the underworld there were 321 police characters in cells, whose clamor of handcuffs fell upon deaf ears.

The President of the Police Board declared he meant business when, in a conference with department heads in the evening, he declared that every saloon or poolroom where gamblers, and other police characters were known to hang out must be closed and the habitués locked up.

The murder of Patrolman Anderson was a challenge to the entire Police Department," President Brockman told Chiefs O'Brien and Boagland. "It means that we must get the 'red hot' or they will get us."

One Robbery After Midnight.
As a result of police activity only one robbery was reported between midnight and 7 a. m. today, although there were several hold-ups and several burglaries before midnight.

Detectives say they do not know just how many connections between the slaying of Charles O'Neal
by Deputy Constable James F.
Miles Jr., last Tuesday, in the Washington Hotel barroom, and the assassination of Patrolman Anderson in front of "Putty Nose" Brady's saloon, across the street from the Vanderweaver avenue entrance of Fairground Park, Sunday, but they do know that several of Miles' cronies were in Brady's place late Saturday night. Miles is still at large, and his pals, the police say, would resort to anything to keep him "under cover."

Miles' Associates Held.
Among those rounded up last night were several former associates of Miles, and they will be questioned about Miles' possible connections as well as concerning
the murder of Patrolman Anderson. Several of the suspects are held for the investigation of the murder of Simon Brockman, who was shot by highwaymen near Jennings, St. Louis County, early Sunday. Two of the prisoners have been identified as highwaymen who held up the Lakeland Garage yesterday.

Bert Griffith, outfielder on the Brooklyn National baseball team, who, witnesses at the Anderson inquest, testified, was in Brady's saloon Saturday, surrounded on the board last night and said he would appear at the coroner's office whenever wanted. His mother said today that he returned home at 2 o'clock.

TUTANKHAMEN'S COFFIN
IS OPENED AND HIS BODY
FOUND; LONG SEARCH ENDS

Howard Carter and His Assistants, in Presence of Egyptian Government Officials, Raise Stone Slab from Sarcophagus.

By the Associated Press.
LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 12.—The sarcophagus was raised today. It is understood the body of the King was found within.

When the lid was raised there was revealed the most splendid gilded mummy case ever found in Egypt. It is about three meters long.

The mummy case bears an effigy in relief of the King wearing the "Nemes" or sacred headdress like that of the Sphinx, decorated with the head of a hawk and a serpent in pure gold set with lapis lazuli.
The hands are crossed, one bearing a crook scepter and the other a flail.

A pathetic touch is given the effigy by a little crown of withered natural flowers set about the gold headpiece.

The royal mummy case has not yet been opened.
Experts characterized the disclosure of the mummy case as the greatest discovery in the history of Egyptology, or possibly in all archaeology.

Apparently the decision that the opening of the sarcophagus would be strictly private was reversed.

Several 3200 Years Ago.
The sarcophagus of Tutankhamen, who ruled over Egypt in the eighteenth dynasty, was sealed 3200 years ago.

WORLD CONFERENCE
PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Pays Tribute to Poincare and Asserts Britain and France Will Reach Accord—Praise for League.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 12.—The new Labor ministry has its first experience in being grilled by the opposition today, when the Macdonald Cabinet made its first appearance in the House of Commons.

The chamber was crowded. The opposition benches were filled, former Premier Baldwin occupying the leader's seat.

The Tories were clearly in a fighting mood and opened hostility by loud shouts of "Speak up!"

When Ben Spoor, chief Government whip, made a motion in low tone. This was repeated with other ministers and is a departure from the forbearance usually given a new Cabinet.

Feeling ran high during the question period and controversial questions were hurled at the Government from all quarters.

The Government bench continued to furnish weak voices as the session progressed. Before the question period had progressed very far the ministers had to fall back on the old formula, "I must ask for notice of that question," which evoked ironical cheers from the opposition.

Questioned Regarding Russia.
Premier Macdonald entered the House without a demonstration, though the Laborites cheered when he arose to answer a question regarding the recognition of Russia.

His answer, however, added nothing to what is already known.
There was loud laughter from the opposition when Commander Joseph Kenworthy asked the Premier whether the Government's condolences on the death of Lenin had been conveyed to the soviet, Macdonald did not reply.

Macdonald, answering a question regarding the separatist movement in occupied German territory, said he trusted the negotiations between Great Britain and France and Belgium, which had been progressing ever since the new Labor Government took office, would shortly be satisfactorily concluded.

He added that he preferred to postpone a detailed statement in order not to hamper the negotiations.

More Personal Responsibility.
Macdonald called attention to the fact that no party had a majority. The new conditions, he said, would necessitate alterations in the habits of the members, as individually they would have to vote more and more on their personal responsibility and not merely as party politicians.

The Labor Government, Macdonald declared, was not going out of office as the result of any snap decision, but only go down if it were defeated on a substantial issue.

Macdonald thanked the "calm and sane-minded business men," who had warned investors not to make tools of themselves because of the advent of a Labor Government. He appealed to the country to keep steady.

Defends Aid to Unemployed.
The Prime Minister defended
Health Minister Wheatley's order, by which the guardians of the Poplar District of London had been given a sort of free hand in the distribution of relief to the unemployed. This, he declared, was an insignificant mechanical operation.
It was not an indication that the Labor Government was going to encourage uneconomic extravagance and any of the expending departments.

The Premier reviewed British and Italian recognition of Russia and expressed the hope that early developments would warrant Japan in following the example of the other two nations.

Macdonald maintained that gilt-edged securities had increased in value since the advent of the Labor Government.

The Government, he said, would place before the House every one of the economic conference resolutions for a free vote. It also would appeal for a world conference
in following the example of the King's last speech.

Macdonald was asked whether his attention had been called to the memorial being widely circulated appealing for a world conference on reconstruction and whether this reconstruction and whether this

TRAIN SACKED BY AGUILAR SENT ON WILDCAT RUN

Aged Mexican Rebel Chief Begins Campaign of Guerrilla Warfare.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—A campaign of guerrilla warfare in the state of Vera Cruz was begun yesterday by the rebel chief, Higinio Aguilar, an octogenarian, who since 1910 has participated in every revolution, operating in the mountainous region along the boundaries of Puebla, Oaxaca and Vera Cruz.

Aguilar has distinguished himself for his activities along the railway lines, dynamiting trains, sacking unattended towns and being merciless toward prisoners.

Appearing at Alhuluz, the highest point in the Maltrata Mountains, Aguilar, Sunday, stopped a freight train and after checking the box cars sent the train full speed down the steep incline, according to officials of the Mexican railroad. The officials assert that they know nothing regarding the damage caused by the wildcat train.

The War Department announces that Guadalajara had been resumed. The department also confirmed the re-occupation of Vera Cruz by Federal forces.

FRENCH SENATE EXPRESSES HOMAGE TO WILSON'S MEMORY

Only Two Royalists Vote Against Resolution Dealing With Aid
in War and Peace.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Feb. 12.—Two votes were cast in the Senate today against a resolution expressing grateful homage to the memory of Woodrow Wilson for his part in the war and his efforts to obtain guarantees for a definite peace by international understanding.

The resolution was sent to the Foreign Affairs Committee in the usual way, where it was examined and the Senate reporter then read the committee's unanimous adoption of the motion. The only votes against its adoption by the Senate were those of Dominique de Haye and Count de Blois, both roy-alists.

LINCOLN'S BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

City Hall Offices, Merchants' and Stock Exchanges Closed.

Lincoln's birthday, the 121st anniversary of the birth of the Emancipator President, was observed today by the closing of city hall offices and the closing of the Merchants' and Stock Exchanges. The courts remained in session, and the schools did their work as usual.

The principal observance of the day is in the meeting of the State Young Republicans' Association, which will be addressed by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, at his dinner at Hotel Jefferson tonight.

VERA CROZ PORT AGAIN OPEN

Was Closed to World Commerce
During Rebel Occupation.

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12.—President Oregon today opened the port of Vera Cruz to international commerce. It was announced by the Mexican Consulate here.

The port was closed by Federal order in December following its occupation by the rebels.

Son of Confessed Slayer Released.

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 12.—The police today released John Lincoln, 18 years old, son of Warren J. Lincoln, who has confessed to the murder of his wife, Lina, and her brother, Byron Shoup. The youth was taken into custody last night, after he had told Chief of Police Michels that it was he and not his father who was guilty of the murder.

The chief did not believe the story and after further questioning decided he was trying a "murder masquerade."

SLOW DRIVING COSTS PHYSICIAN $10 FINE

His Theories on Motoring so as to Delay Street Car Fail to Interest Judge.

Dr. John H. Cawood of 4466 Green avenue was driving east on Natural Bridge avenue in his coupe Sunday evening, but he didn't like the bumpy condition of the street. So, at Euclid avenue he turned onto the street car tracks, proceeding at a moderate rate of speed.

The motorman of a Natural Bridge street car behind him, desirous of traveling faster than the doctor, announced his intention by a prolonged and emphatic clanging of its bell. This didn't seem to affect the physician in the least. He just let the coupe amble along placidly.

George T. Willis, the motorman, wasn't so calm about it. He kept on dingling his bell in the doctor's ear.

When Dr. Cawood reached Newstead avenue, five blocks below the point where he had decided street car tracks made a better road than the street traffic blocked his way. Motorman Willis jumped out and approached the physician. The doctor proceeded to expound to Willis his philosophy of driving a coupe.

The philosophy might have been all right if Sgt. Lay of the Wyoming Street Police District hadn't been on the front platform of the car during its five blocks crawl. He introduced himself to Dr. Cawood. The physician turned to Lay and began his philosophical discussion all over again. Lay didn't know anything about the physician's theories, but he knew there was an ordinance against blocking traffic, so he arrested Cawood.

Dr. Cawood, Motorman Willis and Sgt. Lay told their stories to Police Judge Matthews. Dr. Cawood began to expound his philosophy of driving a coupe, but Judge Matthews didn't have time to listen. He had time, however, to fine Dr. Cawood $10 and costs.

800 Chicago Teamsters Strike. CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Eight thousand union teamsters went on strike today to enforce a demand for a wage increase of $1 a day and an eight-hour work day instead of nine hours.

The striking teamsters have been receiving $3.50 a day for nine hours' work, or $4 where the teamsters help load.

Lift Out Your Corns

ICE-MINT

The New Discovery Ends All Foot Troubles

This new discovery, made from a Japanese product, is certainly a wonder. The way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen, burning, aching feet, it takes the soreness right out, then the corns or calluses shrivel and lift off.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, just shaved up and left to fester. It is wonderful. Just think! Not one bit of pain while applying Ice-Mint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

You will never have to cut a corn again and run the risk of blood poison.

Pay good-by to your old corn salves, ointments and bandaging tape for that return of pain is sure to be a "goose" if it ever feels the magic touch of Ice-Mint.

It imparts such a delightful, soothing, cooling feeling to the feet that you will wish with relief.

Ice-mint is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet. It prevents hot, chafed and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, swollen feet the treat of their lives. It costs little, and there is nothing better.

SEVEN FARMERS SUE FOR $350,000 TOTAL

Visit of Armed Men to Farm in Search for Thief Is Basis of Actions.

The visit two years ago of an armed company of farmers to the home of Cletus McMenamy, near Old Monroe, 52 miles north of St. Louis, is the basis for three damage suits for a total of $350,000, filed in the St. Charles Circuit Court yesterday against seven of the alleged visitors.

McMenamy and his wife sue each the seven for $20,000 each, and Oscar Green, a negro formerly employed on the McMenamy place, who was the cause of the occurrence, sues each of the seven for $10,000. The defendants named are Henry Wehde Jr., John Whalen, James Connoughton, Andrew Hockenberger, Harry Miller, Al Hammer and Clayton McCausland. The men of others in the party, it is stated, are not known to the plaintiffs. Most of those sued are residents of Lincoln County.

Alleges Spite Work. About Feb. 11, 1932, the petition says, a theft was committed on the farm of Henry Wehde Jr. and the negro, Green, was suspected. The men named and others, armed with rifles and clubs and accompanied by bloodhounds, it is declared, appeared at the McMenamy residence and asked Mrs. McMenamy where Green might be found. Their manner was terrifying, Mrs. McMenamy charges. She told them she supposed Green was at his house, on another part of the farm. It is charged that the mob on its way to Green's house spitefully tore down McMenamy's fences and stampeded his fattening cattle. On arriving at Green's house, it is charged, they ransacked the house and turned over furniture and boxes, looking for the stolen goods. When Green arrived, it is alleged, they "pounced upon him, made him prisoner, accused him of larceny, and threatened him with lynching if he did not confess larceny."

Negro Was Released. The petition says the Sheriff of St. Charles County questioned Green and, finding no evidence upon which he could be held, dispersed the mob.

The following day Green was taken to Troy, placed in jail, and held three days until the case was dismissed for lack of evidence. Green charges that subsequently he was threatened, and compelled to leave the employment of McMenamy and reside elsewhere.

Mrs. McMenamy charges that the activities of the mob brought on a critical condition, and ruined her health for life. A child was born to her two months later.

HALLIDAY SENTENCED TO TWO TERMS, TOTALLING 8 YEARS

Judge Falkenhainer Takes Action After Overruling Motion for New Trial.

George V. Halliday, bankrupt broker, was sentenced by Judge Falkenhainer today to two penitentiary terms of three and five years, respectively, imposed on him by juries within a little more than 12 months.

Halliday's three-year term was fixed by the jury which convicted him of embezzlement in a brokerage transaction. His verdict being returned Jan. 18, 1933. The five-year term was given when he was convicted Oct. 24, last, of forgery in the counterfeiting of $1,594,900 inferior certificates of J. P. Morgan & Co. for French Government bonds.

Halliday appeared in court today, and Judge Falkenhainer overruled a motion for a new trial in the forgery case. The motion was based on an allegation of duress.

Halliday was then sentenced in both cases, the court stating that the two sentences would run consecutively, not concurrently, making eight years.

An affidavit of appeal was then filed, it being Halliday's purpose to take both convictions to the Supreme Court.

HEAD OF STEEL CONCERN BRINGS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Frank J. Stuart Charges Former Actress With Extravagance and Indignities.

Mrs. Lillian Stuart, a former actress, living at the Fairmount Hotel, 4907 Maryland avenue, was sued for divorce yesterday in Clayton by Frank J. Stuart, chairman of the board of directors of the Consolidated Iron and Steel Corporation, who alleges extravagance and charges her with general indignities.

Mrs. Stuart filed a suit for separate maintenance Jan. 31, in which she charged that Stuart, who promised her $200 a week for expenses before their marriage, limited her to $25 a week after their wedding.

This is Stuart's second appearance in the divorce courts. He was divorced by his first wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart, Aug. 3, 1922. She received $20,000 alimony in gross, the custody of their daughter, 15, and 1000 shares of stock in the corporation headed by Stuart.

Stuart married his second wife Sept. 11, 1922. They separated last month.

New Grecian Premier Asserts People Want These Principles.

ATHENS, Feb. 12.—Announcing the new Government's program at the reopening yesterday of the National Assembly, Premier Katsaris said the retirement of Venizelos was only temporary and the Government was convinced that the people's wishes could only be met on the basis of the principles advocated by the retiring Premier.

Katsaris contended that Greece's sufferings were largely due to the monarchical system.

Judge Peary Begins Duties. Circuit Judge Claude O. Peary, who was appointed last week to succeed Judge Davis, who resigned to go on the Federal bench, took the oath of office yesterday before Circuit Clerk Schmoll and began his duties today. He was assigned to Division No. 2 at the courthouse.

A jury division, Judge Hartmann, who has presided there, was transferred to division 5.

SOUTH CAROLINA RECALLS REQUEST TO REED TO SPEAK

House Resolution Says Senator Is Not in Accord With Party—He Is Called Traitor in Debate.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 12.—The South Carolina House of Representatives has withdrawn its invitation to address it extended to Senator Reed of Missouri, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. The House's action, taken last night after a vehement discussion in which only two members expressed opposition, does not affect similar invitations extended to Senator Underwood of Alabama, and William G. McAdoo, other candidates for the nomination.

Senator Reed was assailed for his opposition to policies of Woodrow Wilson, and also was described during the debate as "a traitor to his country." The resolution withdrawing the invitation states that he "does not represent the highest ideals of the people of this State and is not in thorough accord with the Democratic party, and, in our opinion, would not be supported by the electorate of South Carolina."

Representative Hanahan of Fairfield, opposing the withdrawal as the "act of schoolboys," voiced the opinion that Senator Reed during the war "should have been placed with his back to a wall in front of a firing squad." Representative Gray of Spartanburg, the other opponent of the resolution, held that the action would be "rude," and vigorously criticized executive appointments made during the Wilson administration—including that of Bainbridge Colby, "a rank Republican"—because of the church or party affiliations of the officials named.

COOLIDGE'S SPEECH TONIGHT MAY BE CAMPAIGN KEYNOTE

President to Address Lincoln Day Dinner of National Republican Club at New York.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The trip of President and Mrs. Coolidge today to New York, where Mr. Coolidge tonight will address the National Republican Club, is their first departure any distance from Washington since they entered the White House.

The President left Washington at 11:22 a. m. Not since last August 11, when the President and his wife returned from the funeral of President Harding at Marion, Ohio, have they been more than a few miles from Washington. Only once have they been outside the District of Columbia, and that was early last fall when they went to the nearby Virginia city of Alexandria to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the National Masonic Memorial.

Numerous invitations have been received by the President but none which would take him out of the capital have been accepted except that to speak tonight before the National Republican Club. He has let it be known that he has no intention of accepting any additional invitations before spring.

The speech tonight will be Mr. Coolidge's first important address as President outside of his message to Congress, and while he does not regard it as a political address, its reception by the country will be eagerly awaited by managers of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. His managers anticipate that his address will be the keynote of the campaign.

The President will speak about 9 o'clock and will be heard by several million people outside the banquet hall by radio. His address will be broadcast by station WEAF and WJZ in New York and WCAP in Washington.

Gov. McCray's Plea Overruled.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—March 4 was the date set today for the start of the trial of Gov. Warren T. McCray on 12 indictments relating to the Governor's personal farm lands deals. Judge Collins today overruled pleas in abatement. The Governor formally pleaded not guilty.

FUGITIVE REALTY DEALER INDICTED

James A. Hodges Charged With the Issuance of Fraudulent Deeds.

James A. Hodges, real estate dealer and agent for lots in Southurts, a subdivision in Carondelet, was indicted today by the grand jury on two counts charging felony in the issuance of fraudulent deeds. He is a fugitive.

The complaining witnesses were Mrs. Myrtle Hall of 723 Shenandoah avenue and Joseph Harrington of 4139 Osceola street. They testified that they purchased lots in Southurst from Hodges and received warranty deeds which purported that the parcels were free of incumbrances. There was a mortgage of $210 against each.

Hodges, who formerly resided at the Georgian Court Apartments, did a rush business in Southurst and there have been many complaints of his operations. He disappeared several weeks ago.

Hodges had entered an agreement with the Cornet & Zeibig Trust, realty firm, to sell lots in Southurst. The entire subdivision was mortgaged and the pro rata incumbrance of each lot was $210.
Before the lots could be released as they were sold, Hodges was required to pay $210 to Cornet & Zeibig. Instead of arranging this detail, Hodges apparently pocketed the entire proceeds, at least in some cases, telling his customers that he was giving them clear title.

SAYS HUSBAND TOLD HER OF TWO MURDERS

Woman Who Caused Arrest
Recounts Story of Killing of His Father.

By the Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Feb. 12.—Ray-D. Smith, farmer, held here in connection with the slaying of his grandmother, Mrs. Francis Sweet, 33 years old, whose body was found buried at the Smith farm Sunday after she had been missing two years, told his wife that he had killed his father at their farm home near Pittsfield, Mass., seven years ago, Mrs. Smith declared in a statement to county officials.

Mrs. Smith said her husband told her he obtained $6000 in life insurance at the death of his father. She said he did not tell her how the father's death was explained to authorities. She said Smith told her he struck his parent on the head with a hammer and buried the body beneath a chicken house at their farm.

Alvin Marsh, prosecutor, said investigations into the death of Smith's mother at Chicago and of a former wife here, which occurred under mysterious circumstances, will be made.

Smith was taken into custody here Saturday night on information furnished by his wife, who told of the alleged murder of the grandmother at their farm, here two years ago. A search of the farm Sunday disclosed the woman's body beneath the concrete foundation of an outhouse.

Mrs. Smith in telling of the statement by her husband of the second alleged crime, said she had kept silence for more than two years because of fear.

"My first knowledge of my husband's murderous mania came to me when I was a bride of only a few months," she said. "I had learned that he was a victim of tuberculosis and insisted that, as a safeguard to myself and young baby, we separate."

"I'll kill you if you leave me," Smith threatened, she said. "You don't mean that, Ray. You wouldn't kill anyone," the wife said she replied. Becoming incensed, she said, he shouted:

"I'll show you whether I'll kill anyone or not. I killed my father—I hit him over the head with a hammer and buried his body under a chicken house on our farm, at Pittsfield. I'll kill you and our baby, too, if you ever leave me or tell anyone about it."

Grandmother Shot in Back.
The grandmother was slain six months later, Mrs. Smith declared. The aged woman was shot in the back by Smith, who placed the body in a trunk and later buried it beneath the outhouse, according to Mrs. Smith's story. She was absent from home at the time of the shooting, Mrs. Smith said, and the details of the slaying were recounted by her husband when she returned, who threatened to kill her if she told anyone.

"He watched me constantly," she said. "I always felt, no matter where I was going, that he was likely to come on me suddenly. Several times, threatening my life, he got his shotgun and pointed it at me."

Local authorities today said on the death of the grandmother, Smith would have inherited approximately $20,000. Smith refused to discuss the charges against him. He appeared cheerful.

Mrs. Smith, whose story brought about the arrest of her husband, was formerly Miss Margaret Bernhardt of Hibbard, Ind. At the time of her marriage to Smith she was a school teacher in Anderson, Ind. Smith was an instructor in music there.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The action brought by Pauline C. Hayes, a professional equestrienne, to compel her former attorney, Jerome C. Jacobs, to return several of her papers, including a telegram, a check and 14 letters received from John L. Bushnell of Springfield, O., has been settled out of court.

The filing of the application recently disclosed that Mr. Bushnell, former president of the First National Bank of Springfield, had signed checks totaling $50,000 in settlement of a claim Jacobs adjusted for Miss Hayes "for breach of contract in connection with services previously rendered." She also sought to compel Jacobs to pay her $12,100 with interest and to indorse a $25,000 check, made out to the attorney by Bushnell in part settlement of the total claim. 1cesdotpht...metres

DIVER JOINS IN SEARCH OF POND FOR MISSING BOY

Employee of East St. Louis
Water Company Exploring
Stagnant Water —
Pump Still in Operation.

A professional diver began today to explore what remains of the stagnant waters of the quarry pond behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall at 419 North Third street, Belleville, in search for the body of 3-year-old Lester Hall, missing eight days.

Meanwhile, the Scott Field Fire Department's powerful gasoline pump of 750 gallons a minute capacity is steadily draining the pond, while the Halls wait dry-eyed, patient, for word that their son's body is found.

The diver is an employee of the Interurban Water Co. of East St. Louis and his services were volunteered at the suggestion of Mayor Anton of Belleville.

Army Officers Direct Work.
Fire Chief Dingus of Belleville appealed to Scott Field yesterday when he realized the inadequacy of two loaned pumps with a combined capacity of 110 gallons a minute. They had worked at top speed since Saturday with negligible results. Maj. Paegelow, commander of Scott Field, granted the request and rushed his men to the pond. At 9:30 p. m. pumping was begun, and Maj. Paegelow remained in charge until midnight, when Lieut. Fred Wilson, fire chief of Scott Field, relieved him.

Late into the night some 200 men and women clustered around the engine and stared at the slowly receding water and the figure of John Hall in hip boots, tramping along the border of the pond.

Few Expected Body to Be Found.
Throughout the day Hall had patrolled the pond, peering eagerly into pits and crevices and smashing blocks of ice. His wife remained in the house, standing expressionless at a kitchen window, staring toward the pond. At dawn today Hall again was at the pond resuming his vigil. He has sworn to do nothing but search until Lester is found, dead or alive.

Most Belleville residents do not think the boy's body is in the pond. A dozen charges of dynamite have been exploded there, enough to bring any body to the surface, but the distraught parents will not be satisfied until the pond is dry. Major Paegelow estimated that the water would be sufficiently low to day to permit searchers to wade through what is left of the pond.

Mayor Anton will confer today with E. E. Albrecht, Boy Scout executive, to discuss plans for raising a cash fund he started yesterday with a contribution of $50. Many Belleville residents have sought to contribute toward financing a nation-wide search for the missing boy, and it is expected that the 150 Boy Scouts of Belleville will take over the work of gathering funds. The scouts devoted more than a day last week to combing a wide territory surrounding the Hall home when the search for Lester began.

Lester disappeared from home Monday afternoon last and left no clue, not even a footprint. Opinion differs widely as to his fate, with kidnapping being the popular theory. The Halls have eight other children.

GETS DIVORCE FROM FORMER ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY MANAGER

Mrs. Arthur J. Gaines Alleges Desertion—Awarded Alimony of $250 Monthly.

Arthur J. Gaines, manager of concert tours of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and former secretary-manager of the St. Louis Symphony Society, was divorced yesterday by Mrs. Olive S. Gaines, of 7639 Pershing avenue, University City. She obtained her decree from Judge McElhinney at Clayton on a charge of desertion.

The court gave Mrs. Gaines custody of her two children, Arthur, 12, and William, 9, and awarded her $250 a month alimony. The marriage took place Sept. 14, 1910. Mrs. Gaines said her husband left her July 1, 1922, and had told her that he did not love her.

Gaines was with the Symphony Society here for 10 years. He was manager last season of the New York City Orchestra.

FORD'S TRAIN KILLS THREE SPORTSMEN WALKING TRACK

Fourth Man Seriously Injured by Special Carrying Auto Man in New England.

By the Associated Press.
GLENCLIFF, N. H., Feb. 12.—A special train on the Boston and Maine Railroad bearing Henry Ford homeward from Boston to Detroit, yesterday struck four sportsmen who were walking the track on their way to an outing club. Three of the party, brothers, were killed instantly and the fourth was seriously injured. The train crew did not know of the accident and continued on their way.

A southbound express picked up the man who escaped, Ralph D. Reed of Manchester, N. H., and took him to that city. Charles B. and Robert L. Manning of Manchester and Francis Manning of Cambridge, Mass., were the men killed.

are the tiny nerves
that cause your itching

STUBBORN rashes, eczema, skin disorders small or serious. You cannot hope to relieve them with mere surface salves and remedies. It is below the outer surface of your skin that the real irritation lies—deep down where cells are clogged with poisonous germs, where tissues are swollen and inflamed.

every kind of skin affection, careful physicians are today recommending Resinol Ointment as a safe and effective remedy. Absolutely pure, healing, mildly antiseptic, Resinol will often soothe away in a day or so the most stubborn rash, or the most trifling skin ailment. Members of the commission who are going over the report state it is a very favorable operating statement and indicates the financial condition of the company is favorable for carrying out the reorganization plan during the receiver's period.

The report showed total revenue of $2,220,967, an increase of $480,647 over the 1922 year. The gross operating revenue was $2,045,445, an increase of $489,889. Operating expenses, depreciation charges and interest totaled $1,165,785, an increase of $114,554 over 1922.

14-YEAR OLD GIRL PIANIST WILL BE SOLOIST AT FOURTH POST-DISPATCH CONCERT

Ruth Napier Chosen for Honor Place on Program After Drawing of Lots With Another Child.

CHILD CHOSEN SOLOIST

RUTH NAPIER

HAVING acted as listeners during three seasons of the Post-Dispatch free concerts, the children have now arrived at the point of supplying a participant in one of the programs. Ruth Napier, 14-year-old pianist, will be soloist at the fourth concert of the 1924 series, which will be given at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Missouri Theater, Grand boulevard and Lucas avenue.

Both Miss Napier and Anna Garlin, who is also 14 years old, volunteered to assist at one of the Post-Dispatch concerts. Rudolph Ganz, director of the Symphony Orchestra, heard them play. Miss Napier offered last's "Hungarian Rhapsody," and Miss Garlin Greig's A Minor Concerto. Their performances were so nearly equal that he was unable to make a decision, even after two days of reflection. So the girls were asked to draw lots, and Miss Napier won. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Napier of Webster Groves, and a pupil of Mrs. Mary Blackwell-Stevenson. She will play the List "Hungarian Fantasy" with the orchestra.

With this concert, Mr. Ganz completes the tour of all the orchestral instruments which began with the opening program, on Jan. 5. The first visit was paid to the bowed instruments—violin, viola, violoncello and doublebass. The second was to the woodwind section—piccolo, flute, oboe, English horn, clarinet, bass clarinet, bassoon and doublebassoon. The third visit was paid to the brass instruments—French horn, trumpet, trombone and tuba. The final lap of the tour will exhibit the harp, celesta and percussion instruments.

Celesta Comparatively New. The harp is probably familiar to all the children, but the celesta will be a new experience for most of them. This instrument was invented only a few decades ago. It has a keyboard like a piano, but the notes are produced by a series of tuning forks instead of strings.

The tuning fork, alone among sound-producing devices, has the peculiar property of sounding only the fundamental tone, without overtones. This singularity gives to the celesta its remarkably pure and crystalline voice.

The kettledrums, or timpani, are instruments so constructed that they have pitch and produce musical tones. There is a head of sheepskin, as in other drums, but it is stretched over the rim of a large basin of copper, with devices by which it may be tightened or relaxed, and thus raised or lowered in pitch. Three kettledrums are usually employed in an orchestra, and together they have a range of an octave.

Until recently, if a composer wished to write a melody for kettledrums, he was compelled to use as many drums as there were notes in the tune. But the Symphony Orchestra now has a set of chromatic kettledrums, which can be instantly tuned by the pressure of a pedal. Thus three instruments can now do the work for which eight or 10 were formerly employed.

The snare and bass drums are familiar to all boys, and so perhaps are the cymbals and triangle, the latter being a three-sided device of steel which is struck with a rod. The xylophone will no doubt prove something of a novelty, this being an arrangement of resonant bars of wood on which the performer plays with mallets. Chimes, ratchet, tambourine, castanets, sandpaper and sleigh-bells are the other contrivances which will be shown at this concert.

As at the previous concerts, each instrument will be shown separately, and each will give an example of its qualities. The program will be as follows:

1. "Rakoczy March," from "The Damnation of Faust," Berlioz

2. First Movement from the "Unfinished Symphony," Schubert

3. Allegro moderato, Schubert

4. Hungarian Fantasy, Liszt (Miss Napier)

5. Prelude in C-sharp Minor, Rachmaninoff

6. Rhapsody for Orchestra, "Egmont," Beethoven

Tickets will be distributed free of charge between 2 and 5 o'clock next Friday afternoon at numerous drug stores throughout the city, a list of which is given here-with. They will be available for white children above the age of 10 who are pupils at public, private and parochial schools, grade and high. The concluding program of the series, on March 1, will be for negro children exclusively. The management of the Missouri Theater generously donates the use of that playhouse free of charge for these concerts.

DR. JACQUES LOEB, BIOLOGIST, DEAD

He Had Artificially Developed Unfertilized Eggs—Writer on Scientific Topics.

By the Associated Press.
HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 12.—Dr. Jacques Loeb, widely-known scientist, head of the division of physiology of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, of New York, died here last night after a brief illness from heart trouble.

Dr. Loeb arrived in Bermuda Feb. 4, to resume research work at his marine laboratory here where he has been carrying on extensive experiments. Mrs. Loeb, Miss Anne Loeb and several friends were with him.

Dr. Jacques Loeb was born in Germany April 7, 1857, and after studying medicine and teaching in Germany he came to America in 1892 as assistant professor of physiology and experimental biology at Bryn Mawr College. In 1900 he joined the faculty of the University of Chicago, and in 1902 he became professor of physiology at the University of California.

He was a voluminous writer on biological subjects, his books dealing largely with the artificial development of life. In this field he was perhaps the leading experimenter.

In 1916 he succeeded in developing frogs' eggs by the application of lymph and by making an incision in the egg. He also succeeded in artificially fertilizing the eggs of the sea urchin.

Considerable comment was caused in 1913 when he was rejected when proposed for membership in the Century Association of New York. It was charged that he was rejected because he was a Jew.

Prof. Loeb's research work was largely centered in pursuit of the knowledge of the real distinction between living and dead matter. He was said to have advanced the theory that distribution of this distinction would pave the way to the prevention of human death.

Young Without Authority.

"We are going to work in conjunction with the legally constituted authorities of the county," he said. Asked regarding the status of Young, Gen. Foreman said: "We do not understand that Young occupies any position justifying him in administering law and order in the State of Illinois."

In answer to a question as to what the troops would do if Young, armed with warrants, conducted any more raids, Foreman said: "I think we are capable of coping with any situation that might arise."

Before the arrival of troops here Saturday, Young directed the activities of klansmen from an office in the city hall. The door to his office was always locked and the shades on the windows pulled down. A sentry stood just within the door, and if a person wished to enter he was asked for the "password."

The guard placed around the hospital has been removed, as most of the prisoners have been removed from there. John Layman, Deputy Sheriff, who lies wounded in the hospital, having been shot through the lung during the riot Friday, is the only man there who is charged with complicity in the murder of Cagle. Many shots were fired at the hospital during the fighting Friday night, and Deputy Sheriffs were barricaded there.

Gen. Foreman's Statement.

Major-General Foreman, commanding the Illinois National Guard, last night gave out the following statement:

"To the citizens of Williamson County:

"The troops of the Illinois National Guard are in Williamson County at the request of its civil authorities to assist them in restoring orderly civil government and to protect the lives, rights and property of its citizens.

"For this purpose and to this end, the active co-operation and assistance of all law-abiding citizens is urged.

"The deplorable situation which prevails in this area measure, due to the indiscriminate carrying of firearms and other weapons, and the oppressive and criminal acts of persons without right or color of authority.

"Hereafter, wearing or carrying of firearms or other weapons by any but duly authorized officers of the law is prohibited and troops are instructed to confiscate all firearms and weapons so carried, and to hold the offenders for appropriate action."

Special Appointments Revoked.

"Only such persons as are legally elected or appointed will be permitted to exercise the functions of deputy sheriff, police officer or other peace officer, and all appointments of special deputy sheriffs and special police officers heretofore made are hereby revoked and annulled."

"The rights of all peaceful citizens will be safeguarded and protected, and no invasion thereof will be permitted or suffered. They should, however, refrain from participating in gatherings on public streets, remembering that they are in the State of Illinois, and that the rights of the law, which will be enforced to the fullest extent."

Coroner Begins Inquest.

Coroner William McCown, who now is the acting Sheriff of Williamson County, yesterday began an inquest into the death of Constable Caesar Cagle, who was shot during the outbreak last Friday night. The inquest will be resumed this afternoon.

The inquest session yesterday was held on the third floor of the City Hall Building. The military authorities had placed guards at the entrances.

The jury was composed of John Herrin, cashier of the First National Bank, foreman; A. T. Pace, former Mayor and a traveling auditor for the United Mine Workers, secretary; O. W. Lyster, cashier of the Herrin State Savings Bank; Joe P. Benson, cashier of the City National Bank; George Keys, carpenter; Shell Hunsaker, miner.

Miner's Story of Shooting.

Jack Rowe, 25, a miner, testified that he saw Ora Thomas and "one of the Shelton boys," whom he described as the "heavy-set, sleepy-eyed one," each fire a shot at Caesar Cagle as Cagle stood in front of the old Jefferson Bar.

"I had been to a basketball game and was on my way to town," Rowe testified, "and as I was passing Fourteenth and Cherry streets I saw a crowd of about 25 or 35 men, all of whom carried pistols, rushing down the street. They were shouting to the people to keep off of the streets."

"When the men came even with the Jefferson Bar, one of them shouted, 'Here he is.' I looked over toward the sidewalk and saw Caesar Cagle walking north, that is, he was walking towards this mob of men. Cagle stopped and the mob rushed over to the sidewalk."

"One man, a heavy-set, well-built fellow, but whom I did not recognize, hit Cagle over the head with a long-barreled gun, either a rifle or a shotgun. Cagle fell to the walk."

"I was about 20 feet away and as Cagle heard the shot, 'Here he is,' he drew his revolver from a holster under his left arm. He had just drawn when he was knocked down by the big fellow. Three men rushed to him and jerked the gun out of his hand."

Heard Three Shots.

"I heard three shots fired and I saw the flash of Ora Thomas' pistol and a flash from a pistol of one of the Shelton boys. The heavy-set, sleepy-eyed one. Some men got between me and Cagle, and although I heard the other shot, I did not see the flash."

Cagle fell to the walk and the mob seemed to disperse."

McCown Goes For Sheriff.

Coroner McCown left here late last night with eight armed soldiers for Champaign, Ill., to get Sheriff Galligan of Williamson County and three of his deputies, and bring them back to the Herrin jail. Galligan and his three assistants were arrested in connection with the murder of Constable Cagle. They were taken from Herrin by S. Gunn Young, who was acting as Chief of Police.

Young left Herrin last night for his home at Marion, Ill. He said that he intended to go to Washington to the last of the week in connection with his activities in Williamson County.

Young said he had received a letter today from W. A. Anderson, Chicago Chief of the General Prohibition Agency, directing him to go to Washington to prepare the first 24 injunctions against bootleggers in Williamson County. He said that 250 injunctions would be issued on the evidence obtained by him during the recent raids which he conducted in this county.

"Work Temporarily Finished."

"My work here is finished temporarily," Young said. "I have gathered sufficient evidence to convict the men who shot and killed Caesar Cagle and, as the result of our raids, I believe the county is fairly dry. On my return from the East I will continue to make my home and headquarters at Marion."

"We have over 20 witnesses whose testimony is bound to convict the assassins of Cagle, but we do not want a repetition of the Herrin massacre trials where witnesses who testified at the Coroner's inquest were intimidated. We don't care what verdict the Coroner's jury returns. We are satisfied to wait until the trial, as we are positive that the guilty persons will be brought to justice."

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 11.—Special guards armed with riot guns were placed in the Champaign County Jail here last night by Sheriff Gray, in whose custody George Galligan, sheriff of Williamson County, and three other men, accused of the murder of Caesar Cagle, Herrin constable, have been placed.

Sheriff Gray's only comment on his action was that "They are there for safekeeping."

Capt. Talbot of the Illinois National Guard, Coroner McCown of Williamson County and two private soldiers, arrived here this morning to take charge of Galligan and his four deputies. They returned to Marion, county seat of Williamson County, with the arrested officers today.

Galligan denied that he attempted to escape on the way here. He denied that he "fell from the automobile" which was carrying him here, but says that "It was the result of a fainting spell."

Letter Campaign to Make Him Second Choice of Missouri Democratic Delegation.

M'ADOO VINDICATED,
HIS BACKERS SAY

Reed Assailed in Statements —27 City Committee-men Said to Favor Senator for Nominee.

A letter-writing campaign to obtain second choice place in the Missouri delegation to the Democratic national convention has been undertaken in behalf of Senator Oscar W. Underwood, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

Coincident with this development came renewed declarations of faith in the candidacy of William G. McAdoo, issued by Charles C. Oliver, headquarters manager, and Charles M. Hay of St. Louis, one of his leading backers. The McAdoo men declared the testimony in Washington yesterday, in which their candidate explained his work as attorney for the Doheny oil interests, vindicated him. In passing they dealt a few blows at Senator Reed, credited with having dragged McAdoo into the oil investigation to serve his own political purposes.

Plea for Underwood.

The Underwood letters declared the McAdoo movement in Missouri, but declared that "in view of Senator Reed's candidacy it is not our intention to make an organized effort in Missouri, as it is not the policy of Senator Underwood to make a contest in any State in which there is a favorite son. This does not mean, however, that we do not desire our friends to crystallize as much sentiment as may be possible in Senator Underwood's behalf so that the delegation to the National Convention may be made up of those who will at least be friendly to the Senator, no matter what they may do in the early balloting. Then, if a native son cannot get the nomination, we hope that Senator Underwood will have their support."

The letters further declare that developments of recent weeks have greatly enhanced Underwood's chances.

McAdoo Men Assail Reed.

Both Oliver and Hay in their McAdoo statements declared that Senator Reed "had been paying a debt to the Republican party."

Oliver continued that "Mr. Reed had remained absolutely silent on the oil investigation until he saw an opportunity to 'smile.' But he effort to embarrass an opponent has had the effect of belittling his own campaign in the minds of the people who want to see politics played on the square."

Hay said that "The Reed who lugged McAdoo into this inquiry and thus diverted attention from the real culprits is the same Reed who brought confusion and dismay to his party six years ago. The Reed who helped Republicans in their attempt to besmirch an illustrious Democrat is the same Reed who helped Republicans in 1920."

The letters declared that the foul brood of the Democratic State Convention at Springfield, Mo., Feb. 12, "The Reed who helped the inhuman pack hound Woodrow Wilson."

Committee Men Confer.

Chairman Mestres of the Democratic City Committee said today that 17 members of that body held a conference with the Reed managers at the headquarters in Hotel Jefferson yesterday, at which a comparison of notes indicated all of the 28 committee men are for Reed except Lawley Dwyer of the Seventeenth Ward.

Mestres has called the committee to meet at its headquarters in the Pontiac Building at 4 p. m. Feb. 21, to arrange for precinct mass meetings for the selection of the 206 St. Louis delegates to the Democratic State Convention at Springfield April 15.

of the car as if he were trying to shut it and then leaped out. He was knocked unconscious by his fall. Galligan said he had reconsidered his decision to resign his post immediately and go to Cuba as soon as he is cleared of the murder charge.

Williamson County deputies who brought Galligan here, said he was under the impression that he was being taken from his jail in the basement of the Herrin Elks' Club to be lynched and repeatedly begged them to save his life.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN MISSOURI CONSTITUTION

Providing Change in Machinery for Impeaching State Officials and for Opening of Ballot Boxes.

Following is the seventh in a series of explanatory articles on the proposed amendments to the Missouri Constitution, to be voted on Feb. 26. These articles are appearing from day to day in the Post-Dispatch.

BY VINCENT M. CARROLL,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.

OTES of 23 State Senators would be required to convict a State official or Judge of the Circuit or Appellate courts on trial in the Senate under impeachment, if amendment No. 8 to article VII of the State constitution, proposed by the constitutional convention, is adopted. Twelve votes could convict at present.

The convention found that the present constitution would allow conviction of a State official or Judge of the Circuit, Appellate or Supreme courts by affirmative votes of "two-thirds of the Senators present." Impeachment, be it understood, is brought about by vote of a majority of the members of the House of Representatives, which prefers charges, trial upon those charges then resting with the State Senate.

The Senate has 34 members, with 18 constituting a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business. That being true, under the present provision, 18 Senators could try a defendant, and the affirmative votes of two-thirds of that number, or 12, could convict.

The convention felt that in such an important matter, votes of a larger number of Senators should be required, so it proposed an amendment that would necessitate concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators elected, or 23, to convict.

One other minor change in the article on impeachments is offered, that being substitution of the title "Members of the State Board of Education" for "State Superintendent of Schools" in the list of State officials who could be brought to trial by impeachment proceedings.

(This change is to meet a revision of the article on education, to be treated later.)

In Missouri, elective State officials and the judges referred to are liable to impeachment for high crimes, misdemeanors, misconduct, habits of drunkenness and oppression in office.

For Opening Ballot Boxes.

Contents of ballot boxes, now sealed against use before grand juries or in the trial of election criminals, would be barred for such official scrutiny where fraud is charged if amendment No. 9 to article VIII of the Constitution, on "Suffrage and Elections," is adopted. This article would be further amended by the adoption of amendment No. 10, intended to give the major political parties the right to nominate their candidates by party convention or by party primary, as they choose, subject to safeguards to be provided by the Legislature.

The present Constitution provides in section 3 of article VIII that "Election officers shall be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any voter shall have voted, unless required to do so as witnesses in a judicial proceeding; provided that in all cases of contested elections the ballots cast may be counted, compared with the list of voters, and examined under such safeguards and regulations as may be prescribed by law."

The Legislature in 1909, in bolting down this armor of secrecy, enacted a provision known as section 5402 of the revised statutes, which reads: "Legal custodians of the ballots or ballot boxes may be summoned before grand juries or before any court of record of the State and compelled to open the ballot boxes and disclose the ballots in investigations and trials, provided that the ballots in no way be used or any information disclosed that would tend toward showing who voted any ballot."

Thus was secrecy of the ballot made absolutely certain, so far as courts are concerned at least, and effective court investigation of ballot box stuffing, fraudulent voting and falsification of election counts in both primaries and general elections was made virtually impossible.

For the State Supreme Court upheld the statute and declared that it forbade production of ballots before a grand jury because to do so would enable the grand jury to determine exactly how every voter in a designated precinct voted. This decision was given in May, 1921, in a case involving the investigation of frauds alleged to have been committed in 10 precincts of nine wards in St. Louis in the August, 1920, primary, in which a St. Louis grand jury indicted 30 Democratic and 29 Republican election judges and clerks. All of the cases had to be dropped, however, after the Supreme Court held that the ballots could not be taken before a grand jury, legally, as the indictments were void under such a ruling, the ballots having been used in returning each indictment.

Protection for Fraud.

Doubtless the persons who were instrumental in writing into the Constitution and statutes the sections here quoted, did not realize the protection to fraud thus provided by the cloak of their designing. What they sought to do was protect voters from oppression by unscrupulous employers who might try to dictate for whom they should vote. There was much talk about that time of railroads and other large corporations trying to compel their employees to vote in large blocs to serve the aims of the employer. Failure to "vote right" was said to be tantamount to resigning a job if it involved disobedience of company orders, for means were taken to find out who voted and how. It was to check this evil that secrecy was double-riveted around the ballot.

Political methods have changed, however, until today the concern is not with the individual voter so much.

So the constitutional convention proposes a provision that:

"All election officers shall be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any voter voted; Provided that in all cases of contested elections, grand jury investigations and in the trial of all civil and criminal cases, in which the violation of any law relating to elections, including nominating elections, is under investigation or at issue, such officers may be required to testify and THE BALLOTS CAST MAY BE OPENED, EXAMINED, COUNTED, COMPARED WITH THE LIST OF VOTERS AND RECEIVED AS EVIDENCE."

Had this provision been in effect in August, 1920, the 59 election judges and clerks indicted on charges of primary frauds, and many others, could have been tried.

In amendment No. 9 the convention also seeks to prohibit idiots and insane persons from voting and would require the Legislature to provide laws for the registration of voters in all cities having more than 10,000 population. At present the Legislature is required to give registration to cities and counties of more than 100,000 population and MAY make such provision for cities having more than 25,000, but not for smaller communities, several of which want such laws.

Regarding Nominations.

The Constitution is silent as to how candidates for public office shall be nominated. But the Legislature from time to time has dealt with that subject, having in 1907 enacted a direct primary law. Widespread dissatisfaction with the manner in which that law has operated caused the recent convention to search for some cure for the major objections to the primary. Its remedy is presented in proposed amendment No. 10. It simply would give the primary against the delegate convention, giving political parties which polled 3 per cent of the total vote for the governorship at the last preceding election the right to use whichever nominating method they prefer.

Delegates who brought about submission of this proposal were striking at the primary, seeking its death, knowing full well that neither major political party of the present in Missouri would nominate its candidates by primary if a well-regulated convention could be held.

But partisans argue that the primary has brought all but death to political parties, having ushered in an era of blocs and personal politics which have zigzagged away from the evolution of great principles of government into a realm where individuals have defied their party precepts and leaders, yet have achieved success through weaknesses of the primary system. Wilson Democrats point to the nomination and re-election of United States Senator James A. Reed in 1922, which they charge was brought about by invasion of a Democratic primary by Republicans.

Arguments Against Primary.

The delegates believed, however, that party conventions would be kept upon a higher plane if the primaries were still alive and available, so its use could be demanded by the public should conventions prove unsatisfactory. No party hoping for success at the polls could well afford to resist a great public outcry for return to primary nominations, it is believed. Hence the optional feature.

Argument against the change was based largely upon the plea that to modify the primary to any degree would be to deprive the people of a right; and that whatever defects may have developed under the primary, they cannot rival evils of the "boss-ridden" conventions of the days when railroads were active in Missouri politics.

Advocates of the amendment, however, attacked the primary on the grounds that:

It enables demagogues with ready tongue, unfit individuals who have well-known names, however, candidates backed by an administration machine and others of doubtful desirability but great wealth, to be nominated where able men with unusual names and without the money to make a year's statewide canvass and conduct a heavy advertising campaign, can have no chance.

It is causing a breakdown in the party system, substituting bloc and personal politics for party responsibility.

It is tremendously expensive, costing the State between $500,000 and $600,000 for each statewide exercise of the system.

It enables minority nominations where a large field of candidates enters a race.

It repels from participation in State politics able men who shrink from making two long arduous campaigns over the State at expense ranging from $10,000 to $20,000 upward, when the salaries of elective State offices and judgeships range from $3000 to $7500 a year.

The only organized opposition to this amendment, so far as is known, is by the State Federation of Labor and allied organizations, which frankly admit that they would be less able to control naming of candidates in conventions than in primaries.

EIGHT MEN SEEK $8200 JOB WITH SCHOOL BOARD

Successor to C. P. Mason, Secretary-Treasurer, Who Died Last Month, to Be Named Tonight.

CONTEST VIRTUALLY
NARROWED TO THREE

Post Likely to Go Either to Hugh V. McNamee, Harry F. Schollmeyer or Edgar A. Mephram.

The Board of Education, at its meeting tonight, probably will consider appointment of a successor to Charles P. Mason, its secretary-treasurer, who died last month. Eight men are seeking the position, which pays $8200 annually.

Hugh V. McNamee, who was assistant to Mason, is now acting secretary-treasurer and is receiving Mason's salary. The permanent appointment, members of the board have indicated, will be made from among three candidates—McNamee, Harry F. Schollmeyer and Edgar A. Mephram.

Schollmeyer is chief clerk in the Building Department of the Board of Education. He began his connection with the board 16 years ago when he was appointed a clerk by Mason, whom he now wishes to succeed. He is a brother of J. A. Schollmeyer, a member of the board. He is 29 years old and resides at 4616 South Grand boulevard. He is secretary of the Valley Realty Co., the president of which is J. A. Schollmeyer.

McNamee With Board 17 Years.

McNamee has been with the Board of Education for 17 years. It is urged in his behalf that, as Mason's assistant and, now, temporary successor, he is familiar with the work and better qualified than outsiders would be. He resides at 5535 Maple avenue.

Mephram is a district assessor in the City Assessor's office and has been for six years. From 1922 to 1923 he was a member of the old House of Delegates. He received considerable publicity in 1902 when he was wanted as a witness in the grand jury investigation of the Central Traction franchise bribery case. The franchise was finally passed over the Mayor's veto and through bribery of members of the House. Indictments followed.

Mephram was not a member of the House when the franchise bill was passed. His presence as a witness was desired in the belief he knew the "inside history" of the bill. A subpoena was issued for him but he did not appear to testify until a month later. His testimony before the grand jury was not made public.

Others Mentioned for Job.

In addition to these three, the following have either announced their candidacy or have been pushed forward by friends: R. L. Dwyer, auditor of the Board of Education; E. M. Brown, supply commissioner of the board; Louis Wallbrink, former City Assessor; George Brand, Clerk of the Probate Court, and Louis Luecke, assistant clerk of the Board of Aldermen. As will be noted, all eight men have one time or another have held public office.

The appointment will be made for a full four-year term although Mason's term would not expire until July, 1925. Eleven members of the board are expected at tonight's meeting, the twelfth Mrs. B. F. Bush, being out of the city. Six votes, therefore, will be sufficient to decide the appointment.

The $8200 position is one of the "plums" of the Board of Education, only the Superintendent of Instruction and Commissioner of Buildings outranking it in salary. Mason, however, received that sum only in recent years and there may be a disposition on the part of some members to trim the salary to a beginner.

CLEMENCEAU PAYS VISIT TO PRESIDENT MILLERAND

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Cablegram, 1924.)

PARIS, Feb. 12.—With reference to the Post-Dispatch and New York World's cable that former Premier Clemenceau may be a stop-gap Premier to tide over the present difficult political situation, it was announced yesterday that the "Tiger" had paid a visit to President Millerand at the Elysee.

Premier Poincare, resuming yesterday his fight in the Chamber for his new fiscal measures, found the opposition as determined as ever to obstruct passage of the bill. The article was not voted yesterday, and at the present rate of progress it would be six years before all the 900 causes were passed.

Critics again asserted it would not be necessary to impose franchise taxes if the uncollected taxes were brought into the treasury, including $400,000,000 francs of business taxes in arrears and 6,000,000,000 francs unpaid excess war profits.

Oellermann Says Bethlehem Team Is Young, Fast

"St. Louis Fans Will See Something New in Foreign-Born Talent."

"Bethlehem is no bunch of creeps," Oellermann said. "They are a bunch of young fellows who are fast and who are going to give the St. Louis fans a good show."

Oellermann is a St. Louisan and formerly tended goal for the Bethlehem team. He was signed by Bethlehem early this season and is the only native American on the squad of nearly 20 players.

"The Jackson brothers, our leading scorers, and Goldie, a wing forward, are all youngsters. Andy Jackson has not yet reached 20 and W. Jackson, the center forward, is only 24 years old. We have one veteran, however, in Jack Ferguson, the great fullback. Jack plays the same very much like Dale Brady and the fact that he is about 40 years old does not cut any great figure in his effectiveness."

Always in Training.
"We train two days a week from 3 o'clock until 5:30. On Tuesday we kick a ball, rest Wednesday and run on Thursday. We usually play league or cup games on both Saturday and Sunday. Therefore, we are active four days a week."

"During our kicking practice I get in goal and 15 men line up along the penalty line and keep two balls coming at me. They are shot, too."

"Highfield, the other goalkeeper, is a native of Canada. We are only players on the squad not born in the British Isles."

"Fast combination is the most impressive thing about Bethlehem's play. No man holds the ball. They keep it moving forward fast."

Triangle Passes Used.
"On the attack we have seven forwards for two of the halfbacks slip right into the forward line. Triangle passes to get past an opponent in midfield are so well worked out that they go off smooth and fast."

"If Bethlehem comes out, here for the final the fans will see something new in foreign-born teams."

Oellermann has been in St. Louis for the past week. He came here to attend the funeral of his mother. His estimate of the strength of the steel team coincides with that of Jim Easton, a former St. Louis player, who is on the Bethlehem squad as a coach. Thos. W. Cahill, national secretary of the U. S. P. A., also calls Bethlehem the greatest team of imported stars ever assembled in this country.

stronger by many degrees than the Todds, Robins and the Bethlehem teams of former years.

Wrestler Arouses Foe's Anger by Alleged Foul in Gaining Scissors Grip.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12.—Joe "Toots" Mondt, Colorado cowboy wrestler, scored a knockout here last night over Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion. It was not a boxing bout, however, and the referee awarded the decision to Stecher.

Mondt had won the first fall in 1 hour and 24 minutes with an arm-locked and the men were grappling for a second fall when the match ended prematurely.

Stecher tried for a flying scissors hold after about 25 minutes of the bout, but Mondt immediately jumped into the ring crying "foul!"

Joe was carried to his corner and the referee stopped the fight.

Ed Lewis and McGill To Reopen Wrestling In New York Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—JACK OURLLEY will take his first big step toward reopening the wrestling game, tonight at the First Regiment Armory, the once nationally known promoter having scheduled Ed Lewis, champion, and Pat McGill, a rising young Western wrestler, as principals in a feature match.

The event is announced as a finish affair, best two in three falls, catch-as-catch-can style. Lewis has been training hard and seemed in good condition in recent matches. McGill has made a real impression in Western contests.

Other wrestling bouts were scheduled as preliminaries to the main event. The match is the first of a series to be held in New York in which Lewis is expected to risk his title against all the main leaders, provided the revival is popular with the public.

Referee Walter Bates disqualified Mondt and gave the decision to Stecher.

There were hoots of disapproval from the spectators who, however, filed out of the hall without causing serious disturbance.

NATIONAL LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING TODAY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Owners of the National League baseball clubs went into their annual midwinter session today while the magnates of the International League proceeded on the second day of their conference.

It was expected the National owners would approve the proposal of President Christy Mathewson of Boston that bonuses to players for playing excellence be abolished and that the International magnates would vote formally to reject a modification of the draft.

Several of the National League owners were bent on making trades, particularly Brooklyn, which was after Rabbit Maranville; Pittsburgh, shortstop, and Boston, which has angled for Jeff Pfeffer of St. Louis.

Other subjects occupying the National League owners were the 1924 playing schedule, a proposal to have baseball writers select each club's most valuable player, a suggestion that the number of coaches permitted a team be limited, and appointment of the 1924 umpiring staff.

The International magnates had two proposed schedules before them for selection.

CARDINAL-BOSTON DEAL REPORTED A FLIVVER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The deal agreed upon by the Braves and Cardinals here some weeks ago is said to have foundered in show water, owing to the inability of Branch Rickey to deliver Jeff Pfeffer to Boston. Jeff was to have proceeded to Boston with Milton Stock in a deal involving Mickey O'Neil, the catcher. But Pfeffer has not signed.

Rickey recently stated in St. Louis that peace had been made with Pfeffer and that he would play for the Cardinals in 1924.

South Broadway To Hold Bouts

Grub Whalen and Lester Martin Booked for Professional Show.

Grub Whalen and Lester Martin have been matched and have signed articles for a bout on the South Broadway Athletic Club's boxing show on Feb. 21.

Other bouts to fill the card have not yet been announced by Matchmaker Fred Gilmaster, but it is expected that all of the principals will be local boxers.

This is the first attempt at a boxing show with professional boxers as the principals since the Angelica Club's "bust" at the Coliseum a month ago. The South Broadway A. C. is said to have a legitimate membership of 2000.

The South Broadway will hold an amateur show Thursday night.

William Yorgler, director of public recreation, said yesterday that the date of the next Municipal Association amateur boxing show depends entirely upon the trend of local professional boxing. He said that if he can obtain a suitable date in the near future without danger of conflict with a professional show or an amateur program given by a private club, he would hold a Municipal show.

No date has been set for the Western District A. A. U. trials through which a local team is selected to compete in the National A. A. U. meet. Verne Lacey, chairman of the district committee, said yesterday that he would wait until one or two more amateur shows had been held, giving the boxers ample opportunity to get into their best condition.

Jeff was to have proceeded to Boston with Milton Stock in a deal involving Mickey O'Neil, the catcher. But Pfeffer has not signed.

Rickey recently stated in St. Louis that peace had been made with Pfeffer and that he would play for the Cardinals in 1924.

GEORGE SUTTON GIVES BILLIARD EXHIBITION AT PETERSON'S TODAY

The one man in the billiard world who has disproved the theory of "wrist movement" and who maintains that there is no such thing as "delicacy of touch," will give a demonstration of his unorthodox game at Peterson's parlor this afternoon and evening.

Sutton has been "wrist movement" is a myth is that he has no wrist. George "Handless" Sutton, for the past 20 years one of the world's most unique and famous billiard players, will give an exhibition of straight rail, balkline and fancy shots and his standard of play falls little short of that of the best professional players.

AMATEUR STANDING OF ATHLETES EMPLOYED AS TEACHERS QUESTIONED

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—An investigation into the amateur standing of three prominent California track and field athletes is planned by officials of the Pacific Athletic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union at its next meeting, Feb. 21, it was asserted by Merrill Andrus, chairman of the registration committee of the Pacific Athletic Association. The three concerned are Morris Kirksey, recognized as the only sprinter on the Pacific Coast capable of giving Charles Paddock a close race; Flint Sanner, former far Western javelin champion, both formerly of Stanford University, and Charles Dorr, formerly of the University of California and for three years the fastest Pacific collegiate two-mile runner.

The three, who were regarded as potential representatives of this State in the coming Olympic games, are accused, Andrus said, of receiving money for coaching athletic teams of high schools where they presumably are employed as teachers.

Final analysis is a question of value

If fine woollens offered only their out-of-the-ordinary appearance in finish, colors and patterns, that would be something. But like all thoroughbreds, they show their heritage in their staying power.

If custom tailoring only gratified the eye and the pride through fitting the garments to the individual taste and form—that would be much. But tailoring that is to stand up under wear must be hand tailoring—that is utility. Even so, if this combination of fine woollens and custom tailoring was beyond the reach of the man of moderate means—but it isn't.

A custom tailored suit of fine woollens.

The Valentine Gift
that's in Valentine's own Color
The Black-tipped Lacquer-red Duofold
—the Gift from the Generous Hearted

JUST as the Parker Duofold is a handsome pen to give, so to give it is a handsome thing to do. For it says that you made price no object—that you gave from the heart.

Yet while the Duofold is the most luxurious of pens—it is also the most economical. For it brushes away long-standing pen faults, inspires writing, and outlasts a succession of cheaper pens. We guarantee its super-smooth point for wear and mechanical perfection 25 years—a point of extra thick gold, tipped with select Iridium that costs us $2340 a pound.

Yet enormous demand and extraordinary methods enable us to sell this $10 value at $7. More than 100,000 Parker Duofolds were sold last year alone. That is why we were able to add the rich 8-Gold Girdle that reinforces the cap. This was $1 extra—now free. Neat Gold Pocket Clip or Gold Ring End for Ribbon also included.

Let no one sell you a "Make-believe" Duofold. Loving hearts do the princely thing—they give the finest. So look for this stamp of the genuine on the barrel—"Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD—Lucky Curve." Look carefully. Then a welcome more eager than any one of a hundred higher priced gifts could inspire, will greet your handsome Valentine.

COUNTERFEIT PLANT FOUND IN COUNTY

Home of Man Near Jefferson Barracks Also Stocked With Home-Brew and Moonshine.

When Edward Suschane of 1212 Hickory street recently forbade visiting his common-law wife, he started something that ultimately led to the arrest last night of his brother William, 36, a stove molder, of 9728 Allen avenue, Luxembourg, as a suspected counterfeiter.

Edward's own arrest, on peace disturbance charges, brought the disclosure that he had been living with two women—one a legal wife, the other a common-law one—both of whom believed the other to be his sister. Yesterday Edward was sentenced to a year in the Work-house on non-support charges preferred by the wife, a bigamy charge being dropped because he was wedded legally to only one woman.

Woman Causes Search.

Indignant over his deception, the wife, Mrs. Ruth Owens Suschane, went to police women after the trial and told them she believed Edward and his brother had been counterfeiting, as her husband frequently came home with double-hand fulls of new bogus quarters, which he passed on to her.

Confronted by her, Edward denied the charges, but Secret Service operatives who were sent for declared that he later told them where they would find counterfeiting equipment in the cellar of William's home. Armed with a search warrant, Deputy United States Marshal, under direction of Stephen Connell, Secret Service director here, visited William Suschane's home near Jefferson Barracks and found mold frames for counterfeiting, a quantity of tin foil, for pouring into molds. These lead and other metal and a ladle were in washstand under the gas meter in the cellar, where the Government men say Edward told them the articles would be found.

In the house were two soldiers apparently intoxicated. A quantity of home-brew wine and "moonshine" was found, with parts of a still. The searchers also discovered a quantity of army blankets, shoes and clothing, which officers from Jefferson Barracks later identified as having been issued to soldiers there.

Denies Any Counterfeiting.

William Suschane denied knowledge of any counterfeiting operations. As for the army goods, he declared some had been given him and the rest had been bought from army stores. The articles he said were gifts bore marks making them easily identified as having come from Jefferson Barracks. Officers there are conducting an investigation. Suschane was placed in the city jail to await action by the Federal authorities.

Mrs. Ruth Owens Suschane, who was a Petrol (Mo.) girl before her marriage, is being cared for at the Convict of the Good Shepherd. The common-law wife of the tangle has gone with her two children to the home of relatives.

HAWES WANTS GOVERNMENT TO ISSUE PAMPHLET ON DOGS

St. Louis Congressman Writes to Secretary of Agriculture Citing Demand for Such Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Citing that the Department of Agriculture has issued esoteric bulletins on unusual subjects such as "chemical changes in oysters" and "pollination on the mango," Representative Harry B. Hawes (Dem.), St. Louis, who has received nation-wide renown for his speech on "dogs," has written to Secretary Wallace asking that the Agriculture Department issue a pamphlet relating to the breeds, breeding, housing and diseases of dogs.

When Hawes appeared before the House Agriculture Committee with the same request he was informed that the decision rested with the Secretary of Agriculture and that if he approved, any reasonable appropriation for legislation asked for by the Secretary in this matter would be readily granted. Hawes' letter states:

"I note that we have bulletins in your department on the subjects of reindeer, the kangaroo rat, beaver habits, chemical changes in oysters, pollination on the mango, care of leather, drying crude drugs, bird refuges, post borers, rabbits, lice, centipedes, guinea pigs, prickly pears, mosquitoes and brahma cattle.

"We have approximately 7,000,000 dogs in the United States. There are more owners of dogs than there are of cattle, poultry, horses or swine. The value of these dogs, in my estimation, will easily exceed $70,000,000.

"I believe that a bulletin on this subject would be more popular, supply a more needed want and be more practical than any other the department could issue.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL PROGRAM IN HOUSE

Representative Rathbone Exhibits Letter by Emancipator and Copy of His Favorite Poem.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The capital's celebration of the birth of Abraham Lincoln centered today in a memorial program in the House and the departure of President Coolidge to New York to address the Lincoln's birthday dinner of the National Republican Club. The Senate was in recess in observance of the day.

Calling upon the "influence of America and the spirit of Abraham Lincoln" to lead "the nations of the world from the hatreds of the past and the selfishness of the present to the dawn of a brighter and better day," Representative Rathbone of Illinois, the memorial speaker in the House, described the Washington arms conference as epoch-making, and suggested that further bounds be "set to the insanity of nations in piling ever higher and higher the expense of armaments."

"Just as Abraham Lincoln has, more than any other statesman, set the moral standard for men," he declared, "so we hope and believe America, more than any other land, will fix the moral standard for all nations."

Recalling that his parents "were the young engaged couple, Mai Rathbone and Miss Harris, the daughter of United States Senator Ira Harris of New York, who drove that fateful night of April 14, 1865, with the President and Mrs. Lincoln in the carriage to Ford's Theater and sat with them in the box when the bullet of the assassin cut short the life of the President," the speaker recited many incidents in the life of Lincoln.

"I am able to say with the utmost assurance of truth and judgment from the words uttered by Lincoln in his last hours," said Rathbone, "that his great heart held nothing but kindness and good will toward his countrymen, and that in his last moments he was looking forward with the highest hope to an era of happiness and prosperity for all his beloved people, North and South alike."

Rathbone also displayed two cherished Lincoln relics, having made a trip to Chicago to bring them here for the occasion, one a letter written by Lincoln to a political friend shortly after his defeat by Douglas for the Senate in 1858, in which he predicted that he would sink out of sight politically, but said he was glad he had made the race because of the opportunity given him to champion principles in which he believed.

The other was a copy of Lincoln's handwriting of his favorite poem, "Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?"

Memorial Meeting in Room Where Lincoln Spoke.

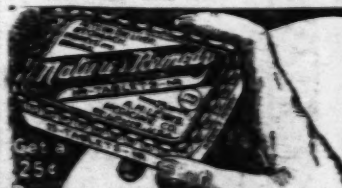

Special in the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—In the room of the old Illinois State House where Abraham Lincoln first answered a speech on slavery by Stephen A. Douglas, citizens of Springfield met today to honor Lincoln's memory.

The room, then the hall of the Illinois House of Representatives, is now the Sangamon County Circuit Court room. The scene when Lincoln rose to reply to Senator Douglas was described by Henry A. Converse, who read a history of the old State House before this afternoon's meeting.

"It was in May, 1854, Douglas, ambitious to be President, had hurried back to Illinois from Washington to fix up his political fences," said Converse. "He expounded his theory of 'popular sovereignty' to a crowd that overflowed the hall. Lincoln was in the audience."

The next day Lincoln replied in this room, Douglas being present. Lincoln was in a happy frame of mind and spoke for four hours. At various times during his speech Douglas interrupted him in perfectly friendly fashion and they argued back and forth, the beginning of the making of an issue which was tried out in the debates of 1858 and which finally resulted in the election of Lincoln to the presidency in 1860."

DECORATE VEGETABLES

If you are growing the house, why not the practical vegetable is the sweet potato. Set one in a goblet with water. In a week show tiny green sprouts grow into vines as trained as fancy of a woman has one at each mantel concealed by graphs and she trains over a mirror on the course there should alter in the glass.

A good-sized carrot at the longest diameter made into an attractive plant. Scoop out the three holes near the shell and through them to suspend the carrot well filled with water, soon send out a showy vine that will entice vegetable.

A turnip can also be made into a decorative plant. Scoop out the large sized turnip, inside, leaving about thickness of shell. Fill and plant either carrot seed. If set in a water this seed will grow and will sprout out all over making a pretty plant.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

MY DAUGHTER, hear now the Prayer of Every Damsel, which she chaneth in her secret heart.
O, Lord, grant me a Perfect Nose!

For verily, verily, "by a nose" is the race of Life won or lost, my woman!

They me dimples if Thou wilt, and refuse me curling hair; let me be twin Cupids, and my figure resemble a cartoon. But use an appealing NOSE, and I shall be comforted.

A nose that curveth upward, as a question, saying, "Do I meet with thine approval?"

A piquant nose, that seemeth designed and made "to kiss the cheek."

A nose that can be called "cute."

A nose that holdeth the powder and doth not shine as a soap advertisement; that goeth not red when I weep, neither turneth blue when I am cold.

A nose that biendeth with picture hats and bobbed hair and flapper clothes.

A nose like that which launched a thousand ships!

For a woman may be admired for her figure and adored for her eyes, but it is her nose which causeth her to be cherished and petted and pitied.

Go tell a woman with a classic profile spendeth all her days in the struggle to live UP to the nobility and dignity thereof.

But a woman with a retrouse nose is forgiven for whatsoever she may do, from fibbing to murder.

She looketh SO helpless and childish!

A woman with a masterful nose must be brave and wise and intelligent; but a woman with an appealing nose may be as weak and foolish as Nature hath made her, and no man will condemn her.

A woman with a strong nose will be accounted strong and permitted to bear her own burdens through life; but a woman with a "baby nose" will be "babied" and carried through life, tenderly, in a woman's arms.

A woman with a sharp nose must speak sweetly lest she be accounted a shrew; but a woman with a wee nose may be peevish and still be accounted a "darling."

Alas, I know not wherefore men should be so simple.

But every woman knoweth in her heart that I speak the truth!

Therefore, grant me, I pray thee, a Perfect Nose, a cunning nose, a piquant, a beautiful nose—and I will do the REST!

SELAH!

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

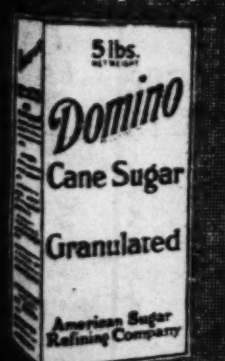

By ALINE MICHAELIS

The Gift.

FARTHEST fields are most green and have ever been so since the time when the world first began, and to reckon his own hold- ing is the way of that creature, Man. He is sure to find always the utmost of stress on the worth of some other man's gift, on the treasure or bauble he may not possess, on the gift that his hands may not hold. It's his way to go counting the other chap's gain, while he's blind when his own losses are high; and we hear him each day voice his favored refrain: "Why must all the good luck pass me by?" Oh, what folly it is that a man should forget that the great gift for high or low is the same one wherever his steps may be set—the gift of the hours as they go! All the fair daylight hours from dawn till dark, when the work of the world must be done, from the rose tint that comes with the wing of the lark to the last golden rays of the sun; all the sweet, silent hours that fashion the night; time for dreaming, for thought and re- pose; time when sleep comes a-tilt- ing with footstep as light as the wind when it's wooing the rose. This the gift not alone for the rich, but the great or the potentate over the sea, not alone to the men of one name, one estate, but to all, as to you and to me. This the dower each day brings to every man's hands empty hours to use as he will, rich or poor, for by far more than jewels and lands, flasks of time he may scatter or fill!

FORETELLING THE FASHIONS

THE Palm Beach season is now well launched and we are getting a good idea of what we shall be wearing as soon as the New York mercury registers present Florida temperature.

Extreme simplicity is the out- standing feature of frocks for day- time wear. Many prints are seen but they are in the minority when compared with plain and striped fabrics. Straight lines predominate and belted frocks are about 25 per cent in evidence.

The middy frock is very popular and favor seems to be divided be- tween flannel and crepe. In the two-piece dresses white is espe- cially favored. In fact white is by far the leading color for daytime wear and is prominent at evening gar- bings.

The touch of bright color is usu- ally supplied to the white costume by the scarf which may be entirely of a bright hue or simply have the ends in color. Sometimes the scarf ends provide the only color. Lace scarves are much in evidence for evening wear and these are usually of net or tulle, sometimes merely picoté in gold or silver or a design in metal threads adorns the ends. There scarfs often match the eve- ning gown and then again they are in contrasting color.

Bathing suits are bright in color and striking in development. A new note is the high neckline which seems to be popular. Some suits have the boyish round collar, others are collarless but quite close at the neckline. A new York woman wears an attractive suit com- posed of plain black satin knickers and a short overblouse of print in Chinese effect gathered in a band at the neckline.

Philosophical Phrasings

If you expect to wear spurs you must win them.

False men are not to be taken into confidence, nor fearful men into a post that requires resolution.

Mercy is one of the attributes of perfection.

A lie cannot be removed by an ink eraser.

Education is one thing that no one can get in a hurry.

A broken promise is like a check without a signature.

QUINCE SANDWICHES.

BEAT the yolks of four eggs to a light yellow creaminess, then add the weight of four eggs in sugar and soft butter and flour. Beat this mixture creamy, then add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, pour the batter into a well-buttered shallow baking pan and bake it in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. Cool, then cut the bread in half, with a sharp knife like a shortcake. Spread one piece thickly with quince jam, then lay the top on sandwich fashion. Dust the sandwiches with powdered sugar and serve them with a little whipped cream on top.

Hunger Destroys Fear.

Starvation, it is very clear, will overcome all other fear.

—Old Man Coyote.

NEVER before had Old Man Coyote so boldly walked in- to Farmer Brown's dooryard in broad daylight. He had been there often at night. He had been there once or twice in day- light. But it had been only when he had made sure that no one, not even Bowser the Hound, was at home. He had approached cautiously, keeping under cover as much as possible, and study- ing every sign to make sure that no one was at home.

But this morning he had not given so much as a single thought to whether or not any one was at home. He had smelled that bacon being fried for breakfast, and so great was his hunger that that smell of frying bacon had put every thought out of his head save the desire for food. He had come into that dooryard as boldly as ever he had moved about in the Old Pasture or the Green Forest. Had the door been open, I suspect he would have walked straight into that kitchen.

But the door was closed. Old Man Coyote actually sniffed at the crack at the bottom. That de- licious smell filled his nose, and he could have cried, were he the crying kind. But Old Man Coyote isn't that kind. He knew that he couldn't get into that kitchen, so, after two or three long sniffs, he turned away.

Now, right back of Farmer Brown's kitchen is an open shed. Old Man Coyote heard a slight noise there. He promptly trotted over to that open shed and looked inside. Bowser the Hound was there. What do you think he was doing? He was just starting to eat his breakfast, and that break- fast was a pan of cornmeal mush, mixed with scraps of meat, and with some of the bacon fat poured over it. It had been put out there for Bowser just before Old Man Coyote arrived.

He knew that he couldn't get into that kitchen.

didn't know what to make of it. This wasn't the Old Man Coyote that Bowser had known so long. This wasn't the Old Man Coyote who always ran. This was a new and savage-looking Old Man Co- yote. So, Bowser, backed away, and then, with his tail between his legs, ran out of the shed. Never had he been afraid of Old Man Coyote before, but now he was afraid. You see, without knowing why, he felt it in his bones that Old Man Coyote was without fear.

He was. Hunger had overcome fear. He gobbled Bowser's break- fast in quicker time than I can tell it. He licked the pan until it was polished. Then when there wasn't so much as a crumb left, he real- ized where he was and the old- time fear returned. He heard footstep approaching the door from the kitchen into the shed. He bounded out of the shed and like a gray streak shot across the dooryard and around the barn. Then, and not until then, Bow- ser's courage returned, and, with a roar of his great voice, he start- ed after Old Man Coyote.

By Irvin S. Cobb.

CATCHING STEP WITH PREVALENT PATRIOTISM.

IN all the years that I knew the late "Germany" Schaefer I don't recall ever having heard his first name. It may have been Hermann. I know the initial was "H." Schaefer, who died two or three years ago, was one of the most picturesque individuals in big league baseball. After his legs had lost their youthful gimp he was a coach and fan maker for the Washington team, and in this capacity shared national popularity with his associate comedian, Nick Atroc.

It will be recalled about the time we became active participants on the side of the allies in the great war, that individuals and articles bearing names suggestive of Teutonic origin lost popularity. On the restaurant menus German fried potatoes blossomed out as "Liberty potatoes" and sauer kraut became "Liberty cabbage." Schaefer saw the handwriting on the wall.

Shortly thereafter, his friends over the country received by mail neatly printed cards reading as follows:

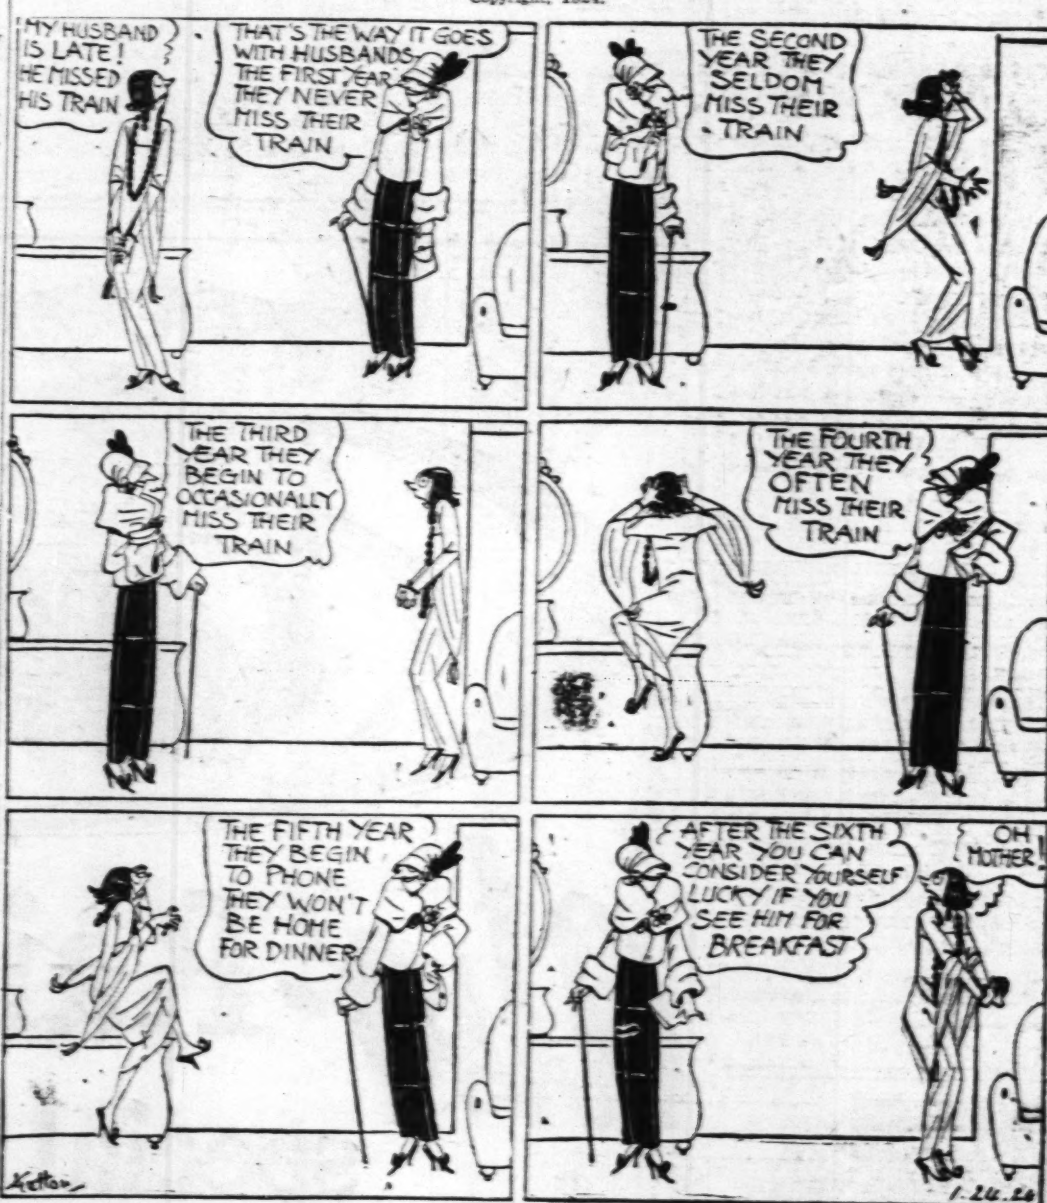

"Mr. H. Schaefer, Baseballer, desires to announce that in future he will be known as 'Liberty Schaefer.'"

RIDDLED BODY OF GANGSTER FOUND ON DAY OF HIS TRIAL

"Eddie" Linehan, Eganite, Was to Have Faced Charges of Mail Robbery Today in Federal Court at Springfield, Ill.—Shot 19 Times.

COURT SUMMONS IN HIS POCKET

Fired Upon at Close Range—Body Apparently Thrown From Auto Into Ditch Where It Was Found.

"Eddie" Linehan, member of the notorious Egan gang of criminals and gunmen, was not present when his trial for mail robbery was called today in Federal Court at Springfield, Ill. For his body, riddled with 19 bullets, lies in the morgue here.

A black lap robe in the middle of Goodfellow avenue, near Penrose street, was revealed by the headlights of a police automobile at 2:40 a. m., and policemen who got out of the car to investigate found Linehan's body, wrapped in an automobile blanket, in a ditch at the east side of the sparsely settled thoroughfare. The feet were on a line with the edge of the street and the head was in the ditch. Evidently the body had been tossed from an automobile.

Body Riddled With Bullets. Linehan was shot from nearly every conceivable angle. One bullet caught him squarely between the eyes, another shot away his right eye, one entered his throat at the Adam's apple, six made a perfect row across his back between his shoulders, three went into the back of his head and he was hit in the breast, arms, thighs and shoulders. Some of the bullets were fired at close range, as there were powder burns on his face and the lapel of his overcoat.

Where or when the murder occurred has not been determined by detectives. At the morgue it was said Linehan must have been dead more than an hour before his body was discovered. Detectives expressed the belief that Linehan was killed somewhere in the county and brought to Goodfellow avenue in an automobile. They say that the St. Louis hounds of gangsters were deserted last night, when extra squads of police night riders were touring the city in search of "red hots."

Linehan was indicted with two other Egan gangsters, Ray Renard and "Sticky" Hennessy in connection with the $4000 mail robbery at Pochontas, Ill. June 15 last. Hennessy was killed Dec. 15 when he ran his automobile against a telephone pole on Olive Street road in St. Louis County. They were at liberty under $40,000 bonds.

The trial of Linehan and Renard was set for today at Springfield. For postoffice inspectors had been informed that it would be postponed until March 18. A summons commanding him to appear in court today was in Linehan's pocket. Beyond the date of the trial appeared in printed form the warning that appears on all Federal Court summonses: "Govern yourself accordingly."

Prosecutor's Theory. District Attorney Thomas Williamson, in charge of the prosecution of the mail robbery case, today expressed the opinion that Linehan's slayers were afraid Linehan might "spill" something he knew about them. However, Linehan had shown no intention of turning State's evidence.

Linehan and Renard were arrested at 11 a. m., yesterday after they had been chased in an automobile by policemen along Elm street, from Hamilton avenue, to a point just beyond the city limits. They said they were serving subpoenas on defense witnesses for their trial, and were released without being booked.

Linehan was 22 years old. He lived with his parents at 1402A De la avenue. His widow and two children reside at 4125 North Second street. His father said today that Linehan had not been home since last Friday.

Arrested 25 times since 1917, Linehan had been questioned by the police in connection with three murders and nearly every other crime mentioned in the statutes two years ago.

Two years ago, when he was shot in the arm, while running from a policeman, Linehan had been a "top-hater." One of the roles of the Egan and Hagan gangs is "never shoot a cop."
